Driving a Great Comeback for a Great Industry

The 2022 FEDA Annual Conference will be presented Sept. 20-23 at the InterContinental Hotel in San Diego. As a world-class city, San Diego is known to draw visitors seeking the best of what California has to offer. Similarly, the conference will showcase many of the top minds in foodservice and bring together foodservice equipment and supplies dealers from across the country to share their insights and experiences as the industry works toward recovery. The city's upscale, ocean-side environment is the perfect place to make these connections. It offers a seamless blend of resort-style amenities with the excitement and energy only found in the thriving center of a modern city. Attendees are sure to find a variety of settings and nearby venues to reconnect with peers and talk business.

FEDA is proud to announce some extraordinary guest speakers, chairman and editor-in-chief of Forbes Magazine Steve Forbes and Mayor of Flavortown Guy Fieri! The other activities and programs during the conference are sure to be just as exciting. Golf is making a grand return in 2022 with an expedition to Torrey Pines South, one of the country's most scenic and celebrated courses. Torrey Pines' golfers and other early arrivers will also have a chance to mingle at a pre-event reception. The energizing Young Industry Leaders events will continue and FEDA will return to its large opening night reception and dinner. Attendees can enjoy a ballgame mid-week at Petco Park and this year's Gold Awards will be presented during a special breakfast event. The Last Night on Bayview Terrace, the latest iteration of FEDA's popular casual closing night party, will feature views of the sun setting over the Pacific Ocean.

The conference's general session programs have also been enhanced for 2022. Advocacy will play a key role in the opening session, with a focus on leaders who advocate on behalf of the restaurant industry and inspire distributors to reimagine what their industry can be. In addition, key manufacturers and dealers will pull apart some of the largest issues affecting the industry, including labor shortages and the need for new industry technology, in essential audience-involved discussions. The popular Partner Exchange Roundtables will also be expanded to focus on a wide range of critical industry issues while maintaining small group discussions.

EXHIBITORS

FEDA is very honored to present Steve Forbes as its keynote speaker on Sept. 21. Forbes is a widely-respected economic prognosticator and his new book, Inflation: What It Is, Why It's Bad and How To Fix It, covers his latest analysis of our inflation rate, which recently hit a 40-year high of 8.6 percent. His popular webcast, What's Ahead, engages the world's leading newsmakers and politicians in critical conversations about the state of global business and economics, including current challenges that can impede economic recovery and hurt businesses, such as high inflation, dangerous foreign policy, the impending wave of antitrust actions, and proposed tax hikes and regulations.

Guy Fieri will join the conference for a special guest presentation on Sept. 22. Fieri is best known as the host of the Food Network shows Diners, Drive-Ins & Dives, Guy's Grocery Games and Tournament of Champions and he operates more than 80 restaurants worldwide. He also has been involved in extensive charitable programs. In 2011, he started the Guy Fieri Foundation, which supports culinary education for middle school and high school students, provides financial resources to aspiring chefs and feeds frontline workers, first responders and military personnel in the field. His support for the restaurant community only grew during the pandemic, as Fieri partnered with the National Restaurant Association Educational Foundation to raise more than $21.5 million in aid for over 43,000 unemployed restaurant workers.

Dealer Focus: Why Independent Distributors Will Win the Future

Dirk Beveridge is the founder of UnleashWD, the premier design, strategy and innovation firm in wholesale distribution. Beveridge will share the insights he gained from traveling across the United States post-COVID to gather data from distributors in a variety of industries. This culmination of insights, called "Unapologetically You," from his We Supply America tour, asserts that independent distributors can and are competing effectively today and should be recognized as the "Noble Generation" for keeping the nation's economy, workforce and supply chain going strong despite unfathomable setbacks over the last several years. Beveridge will also discuss how dealers can overcome their own false narratives about their industry that keep them from having the confidence to forge ahead in new ways they never thought they could before.

Manufacturer Insights: Working Together Toward Industry Recovery

Some of the FES industry's most successful manufacturers discuss manufacturer and dealer challenges and opportunities related to labor shortages, evolving industry technology, equipment innovation, and a focus on supply chain resiliency through sustainability, visibility and technology.

Strategic Planning: Profitability Through Value-Added Services

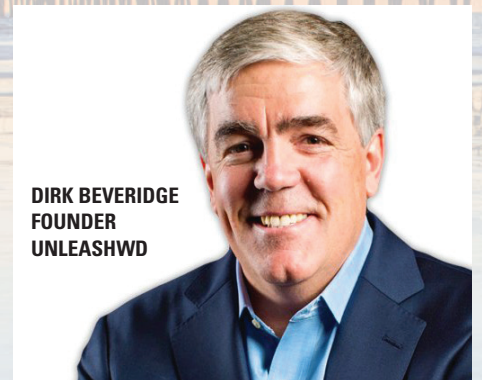

Companies that follow the value-added philosophy of "add value, not cost; sell value, not price," can break the cycle of constantly lowering prices in favor of competing by offering a complete value-added package. Sales and value-add expert Paul Reilly drills down how distributor and manufacturer leaders can increase profitability by building a comprehensive plan for adding value to every step of their business process.
